To Whom It May Concern,

I'm writing to introduce myself to you! I am passionate about supporting women and underrepresented persons within the music community, as seen through my work with the International Women in Music Journal and the Representation Project at WCU. For Women's History Month I showcased women in the music industry who inspire me to believe in my own success.

I am looking for opportunities to further my art administration experience, college education, and love for music in the supportive environment that I know your program has. Below this on my website is my current resume, performance and festival lists. Throughout the website you can find videos and projects that I am working on!

Through my work with performing arts organizations and nonprofits, I have been able to expand my network and develop my communication skills and learn what it is like to dive into the day to day operations of a full-time ensemble/organization. My internship with Sō has allowed me to work with the google suite, canva, wordpress, asana, salesforce, and many more platforms. Throughout my time at WCU and NYU, I've developed communications skills with collaborators and administrators, Arts Admin skills through my work with Sō, and Interpersonal skills through my work on the staff at WCU Summer Symposium for the Marching Arts as well as a NYU Adjunct.

Feel free to contact me through my website or using email above. Thanks so much for your consideration and time. I look forward to speaking with you further!

Sincerely,

McKenzie Squires
